

“Last year I completed the AtosTour for the first time. I did not know what to expect and was not convinced I had trained enough either but the pace set by the front riders and regular food stops ensured we all got round. The organization was amazing from start to finish and aside from making new friends I can honestly say I had the most laughs I have had in ages. The UK raised an enormous amount of money for Macmillan Cancer this year too which made the event all the better. I will not hesitate to sign up for next year.”
